

[illegible]

Allowing the first system to connect to the second system.

100

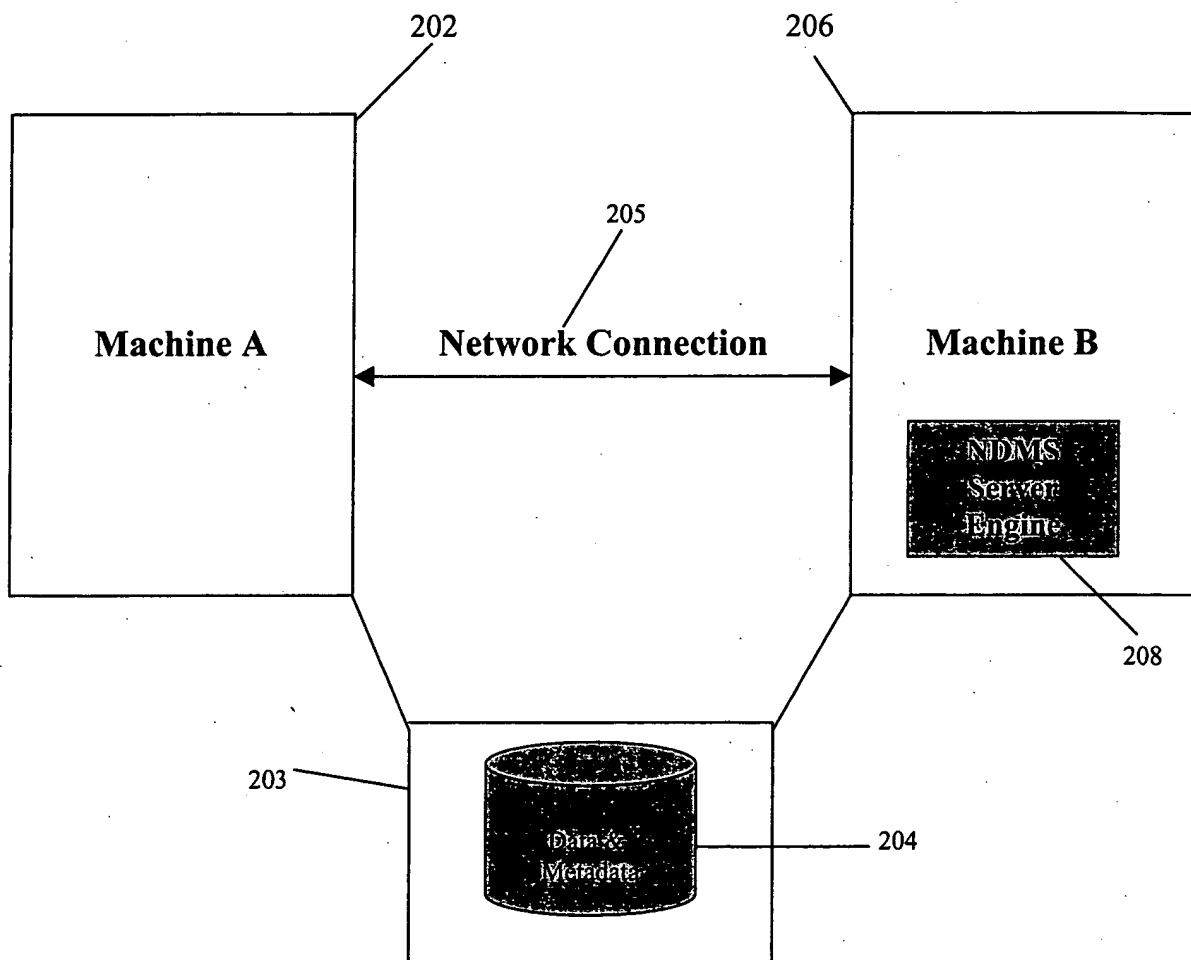

Allowing the second system to utilize information not residing on the second system to process a data request for the first system.

Allowing the second system to utilize information not residing on the second system to process a data request for the first system.

Figure 2

200

Figure 3

000001-00000000

Figure 4